FIVE HOURS LATER

Though extremely excited to visit ministry partners and attend Abigail Hatcher's wedding, I started the day tired. The trip started out smoothly. My mom and I arrived on time to share lunch with a ministry partner in Columbus, Ohio. With a full stomach and heart, we headed to West Lafayette, Indiana, our destination for the evening.

Two accidents slowed things down, but it wasn't much of a delay. However, things changed with accident number 3. An electronic sign indicated both lanes were closed ahead. We made a pit stop at a rest area before arriving at the mile marker mentioned on the sign.

Traffic was completely stopped. We knew that we were in for quite a delay but had no idea that the interstate would be shut down for FIVE HOURS. We spent most of that time in the exact same location. In the end, we found out that the accident had occurred nearly ONE HUNDRED MILES AWAY.

We finally made it to the hotel around 10 pm. Our evening meal with friends turned into lunch the following day. After lunch, we made our way to Evansville. Saturday, I attended the wedding and reception. Sunday, we made our way back to WV. Check out my photo with the beautiful bride!

NOTHING IS TOO DIFFICULT FOR GOD

As I listened to Lisa's glowing report, that thought kept running through my mind. Lisa and Troy, the couple that I met in Florida, visited several houses last weekend. I had mentioned this house to check out from the OUTSIDE because it was too expensive. It seemed perfect as it was a fully furnished duplex. The owner is selling them together as investment property.

Well, I guess I was right. Lisa is convinced that this is indeed a perfect property and location for the Blessing. There is just one small hiccup . . . the price. I firmly believe that nothing is impossible for God. Please pray with us that if this is the location that God would make a way where there seems to be no way!
