The Great Commission is for your kids too!

IREF Together | April 5 at 10 am CT

As a parent, grandparent, aunt, or uncle, do you sometimes wonder how to instill a heart for missions in the kids you love so much? Of course we want the next generation to understand God's heart for the nations, but the reality of missions can often feel daunting to share with the littles in our lives.

We get it, and we want to help! Join us for a very special IREF Together event focused on helping children understand life and ministry at IREF.

This year's event will include segments that will surprise and delight kids and adults alike, a sneak peek at a special project for kids, and three NEW IREF Together hosts. Click the video below to watch a message from them:

So, don't miss the opportunity to help the kids you love catch a vision for what God is doing at IREF. The Great Commission is for them too, and we can't wait to see how the Lord will use the oldest and youngest among us to build His kingdom in rural India.
